

Digital Agent Advantage

More than just a hardware vendor

DIGITALAGENT

Most “phone companies” come in two flavors.

Hardware Vendor

- Avaya Dealer
- NEC Dealer
- ShoreTel Dealer
- Asterisk Dealer
- Cisco Dealer
- Mitel Dealer

Service Provider

- AT&T
- Verizon
- Windstream
- Cbeyond
- XO Communications
- Qwest

Hardware Vendors

Hardware vendors help consult businesses on their communications needs. Using that information they will design and propose a business telephone system to fit those needs.

Hardware vendor expertise is typically centered around their equipment and how to set it up within their customers' enterprise.

Service Providers

Service providers help consult businesses on their communications needs. Using that information they will design and propose connections to their office systems to fit those needs.

Usually those connections will include items like “Internet access” and “phone lines” and “transport circuits”.

Service provider expertise is typically centered around what happens once communications leave the office. Completing calls to other people. Providing access to websites, email and the Internet.

Knowledge is Power

Imagine if your Hardware Vendor also happened to be a Service Provider?

When our customers choose Digital Agent for their phone system OR communications service, they aren't obligated to use us for the complimenting service. They just benefit from the fact that we have expertise in both areas.

That simply translates into more efficient problem solving. Efficiency saves time. Saving time saves money. The Digital Agent advantage is clear! Call us today for help with either, or and both.
